Moderates Organize Local Associations Blairmore and Bellevue

Power of W.U.L. Gang Swept Aside as Majority Voted on Saturday to Return to Work

West Canadian Collieries Re-Open After Prolonged Bitter Strike

Settlement of Strike on Labor Day Hailed with Gladness by Workers.

On Monday a settlement was made between West Canadian Collieries Ltd. and employees after a strike of over six months.

G. A. Vissac met separate committees representing the strikers, who have been under the leadership of the Workers Unity League, and the Moderates.

The agreement is made on the terms which General Manager Vissac placed before Premier Brownlee when he visited Blairmore in August, and which is published in this paper.

Those who signed are as follows: Blairmore Moderates: Sam Rowe, Ed. Womersley, Norman Oliver; Bellevue Moderates: Albert Rhodes, Lambert Dambrosi, Harry Jepson; Blairmore W.U.L.: J. Krosky, Frank Leary, Joe Hobrosky; Bellevue: John Price, Wm. Cox, Pete Roshko.

It is noticed that in the terms of agreement as handed to Premier J. E. Brownlee, no recognition of the Workers Unity League is mentioned, but mention of the "new union" is made, which would indicate that a separate home local will be organized in Blairmore and Bellevue as has been done in Coleman.

All signed as representatives of the miners and not of any union or organization.

WHO WON THE WAR?

There is grim humor in the claim of the "Reds" at Blairmore and Bellevue. The "united front" having broken down under public opinion, they endeavor to give the impression they have won a victory. To bolster up their wavering supporters, a statement was made at Sunday night's meeting that a resolution had been passed expressing confidence in the strike leaders. It really appears to be a victory for the Moderates who have withstood the blasphemy and intimidation of a mob who would have resorted to violence had they been able to get away with it. Moderates in Coleman express the hope that the men who would not be coerced into submission to the Reds will become so strongly organized that the floundering organizers will find themselves out of jobs. They deserve the same treatment they have given others, for force, and not reason, is their policy. Away with them!

JUNE OUTPUT OF COAL

The Inspector of Mines report for June shows that this district's output for June was 92,194 tons, as against 90,951 in 1931, an increase of 1,243 tons over the same period of last year.

"THE BROWNLEE AWARD"

Blairmore, Alta., Aug. 19, 1932.
To The Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier, Province of Alberta, Edmonton.

Dear Sir: In order to make clear the position of the West Canadian Collieries Ltd. in connection with the present strike, I have been and am prepared to agree to the following:

1. That the company will renew for a period of two years (from April 1, 1932) the agreement heretofore in force between the company and its employees, with the exception of the check-off, no closed shop, and the 2. That the notice dated June 20, 1932, is hereby cancelled.
3. That the company will as rapidly as conditions of mines and of business conditions make it possible, re-employ men previously employed by company. The company cannot make any promise as to the number of men, or whom it can re-employ, within any given period.
4. That in re-employing men, the company will give preference to employees who had been on the payroll of the company prior to the strike.
5. That for the purpose of signing the renewal of the agreement, a committee representing the men on strike and a committee representing the new union may be selected to sign on behalf of the employees of the company. (Signed) G. A. VISSAC.

MODERATES APPRECIATE SUPPORT

Blairmore Miners Association asks that the following be published: "The Moderates of Blairmore and Bellevue wish to thank all parties who so kindly and wholeheartedly assisted them during their recent struggle."

"Thanking you for the space in your columns and your kind co-operation."

Yours truly,

Ed. Womersley, Secretary Sam Rowe, President, Blairmore Miners Association.
Ed. Note:—It is evident from the above that a large number of mine workers have cast aside W.U.L. officials who caused the deplorable tie-up. With such a rotten foundation and lack of principle, the W.U.L. could not succeed.

ASK US ANOTHER!

Enquiry was made as to who was the "jack-in-the-box" soap-box spiefder down at the skating rink Sunday night. Ask us something easier, for it is difficult to find words sufficiently descriptive to picture this type of guttersnipe. He came from England, is ashamed of his country, and apparently is already in hell. What a leader! It is a wonder he admits having a name, being so ashamed of everything. Such displays of illegitimacy in oratory are disgusting, and are an affront to the majority of people here.

COLEMAN EXHIBITOR SECURES MANY PRIZES AT BELLEVUE

Mr. and Mrs. Fausville, who have a very fine market garden on Sixth street, were awarded 26 prizes on 47 exhibits at Bellevue exhibition. Their exhibits included 15 varieties of vegetables grown in their garden.

NO PROFIT IN CHARGING SMALL PURCHASES

Slow pay accounts cause a lot of work in collecting. Every time an item is charged, it entails an expense of 15c to 25c. Often stationery has to be used, postage paid and expended in checking up "slow-pays" to such an extent that the original profit is wiped out and it costs the creditor money in addition to gather in the debts. If collection methods are employed, those who owe resent it, but there is a limit to endurance in granting credit, and self-preservation compels a creditor to demand his money. Pay cash, particularly for small purchases, and pay for the necessities before you buy luxuries. This unfair to buy cars and gasoline and let the baker and the milkman and the grocer wait.

Decide Golf Prize On Roof of World

THE Prince of Wales Trophy, one of golf's most coveted possessions, has just been decided for the Benfit Springs Golf Course, a mile above sea level, in the heart of the Canadian Rockies. This year the trophy went over the same time over the Benfit Springs course. It was a woman's championship and was taken by Mrs. G. F. Dewolf (right in photograph) of Vancouver, B.C., who defeated Miss Jean McMillan, of Calgary, Alta., in a close fight that was only decided on the 18th hole by one up. Lay-out shows the two champions being congratulated by their opponents; and the Prince of Wales Cup with the Benfit Springs Hotel in the background.

Presbytery took up committee work at 7 p.m., to open in full session at 8 p.m.

CAN YOU BEAT THIS?

A remarkable demonstration of activity and virility was seen at Bellevue sports on Labor day, when W. Goodwin, Sr., age 78 years was a competitor on the 100-yard dash for old men. His runner-up was Tom Clayton, who is approaching the 60-year mark, and who gave Mr. Goodwin a handicap.

Mr. Goodwin came romping down the track and breasted the tape with a yell and a cheer which surprised the spectators, and walked back with head erect and shoulders back in such style that many a younger man might have envied. To look at Mr. Goodwin causes one to ask if he has discovered the wonderful elixir of life.

City Pastor Speaks

This session opened with a message by Rev. Charles Bishop of First United Church, Lethbridge, who spoke on the "Fellowship of the Church," after which the chairman, Rev. J. A. Claxton, presided over the business session.

Roll call was taken by the secretary, Rev. Roy Taylor. New members of Presbytery introduced were Rev. Chas. Bishop of Lethbridge, Rev. D. N. McInnis of Iron Springs, J. A. Wednesday afternoon the delegates will be driven through the district and into British Columbia by Coleman and Blairmore business men, following which dinner will be served at Blairmore, with a public meeting in the evening.

Drumheller Meets Stiff Opposition Here—Good Boosters for Alta. Coal

Coleman Players in Exhibition Games Provide Football "Fans" with Some Thrills.

Drumheller's fast stepping touring football team played to a draw on Wednesday, Aug. 31, against Coleman's selection of players from Crows Nest Pass towns, neither side scoring. It was a splendid exhibition of clean sportsmanship and Referee Litherland had no difficulty in controlling the play, despite its keenness and edge of tense excitement throughout.

Splendid defence work was demonstrated by both sides, John McDonald, Coleman goal-keeper, earning unstinted applause by his brilliant work in saving his goal from aggressive attack. At least four times the ball was shot right into the mouth of the goal, but McDonald was in tip-top form, and his work gave quite a thrill.

In the latter half of the game Coleman pressed on their opponents' goal, but a strong defensive game turned off some brilliant attacks. W. Edworthy in goal being right on the job at the crucial moments.

P. Corrigan and H. Corrigan, of Fernie, were a strong combination as full backs for Coleman, their play being highly commented on by football fans.

Drumheller team, since its tour opened on May 2, has travelled about 12,000 miles, and in the car played Buffalo, Hamilton and London. Not only have they played football, but they have given publicity to the domestic coal mines of their district. Carrying the slogan of their acceptance, and on their programs, of "Canadian Coal for Canadians—Always!" they were right good boosters for Alberta's coal industry.

Following the game in Coleman, the Coleman club entertained them at a supper in the Knights of Pythias hall when Scots of both teams who were in the majority, and the lone man from Amsterdam, the genial Louis Quant, Drumheller's splendid centre forward who is always there when the ball comes his way, spent the evening in jovial style.

Coleman's line-up, captained by Jimmy Anderson. The line-up of the players is as follows:

Drumheller Miners: Goal, W. Edworthy; backs, T. Watson, A. Forrest; half-backs, G. Boyd, J. Proudfoot, A. Forrest; forwards, J. McMillan, E. McDade, Louis Quant, J. Boyd, Tom Govan.
Coleman: Goal, J. McDonald; backs Harry and Peter Corrigan of Fernie; half-backs, Griffiths of Coleman and McGovern and McFarland of Michel; forwards, N. Evans of Bellevue, G. McFarland of Michel, J. Anderson of Coleman, Dowson of Bellevue, and Marker of Michel.

VISITING FOOTBALL TEAM ENTERTAINED

The following took part in the program at the supper held in honor of Drumheller Miners' football team on Sept. 1 in the Knights of Pythias hall: Songs by Louis Quant, Drumheller; Archie McCulloch, John Boyd, David Lockhart, Peter Smith, Willie Smith, K. McFarland, Harry Parkinson, Dick Litherland, Peter Sharp, T. Govan, P. Corrigan. A banjo solo by Art Milson Sr. and J. Anderson Jr.; violin solo by Charlie Adams. Wm. Chapman was chairman of the program.

ENJOYED VISIT HERE

Drumheller Miners football team expressed their appreciation of the welcome and hospitality extended to them by the Coleman hotel proprietors and private citizens during their visit in Coleman last week, and asked their recognition be expressed through The Journal.

Initiative Wins.

When Marshal Foch was given command of the French army during the World War, one of the first things he is reported to have said was: "To him with history and principles! What is the problem?" Though Foch was perhaps the world's greatest student of military strategy, he was no slave to it. He tackled each problem with initiative and vim. This method won for Foch.

The Review of Reviews magazine declares that a study of recent reports will show that those industrial organizations that exerted wise and sustained vim and initiative profited more than those which stood pat watchfully waiting, or those which imitated others. It points out that the larger the business, the more it tends to become standardized. System and routine often kill initiative and stifle progress. This explains in part why a small organization will so often place a new, out-of-the-ordinary product upon the market, something for which a real need has long existed but which no one previously appeared to have recognized.

Safety glass, now used so widely for windshields and bank cases, is the result of alertness and initiative. Non-shattering glass was discovered accidentally by a French chemist who knocked over a test-tube that had been used for months. Stopping to pick up the pieces, he discovered that the paste substance in the tube held the broken glass intact. Mentally alert, the chemist remembered that the tube contained a mixture of trinitro-cellulose, ether and acetone. Experiment followed and safety glass was the result.

Rear Admiral Donald Watson Taylor is credited for having been able to reduce the coal bill of the United States Navy by one-half, utilizing the bow wave for ship propulsion. A biscuit company making money only erratically saw its sales rise enormously by fashioning cookies in the shape of dogs, animals, and similar enticing forms. A manufacturer of towels was able to build up sales enormously by introducing towels in colors to harmonize with the bathroom tiles. Children's towels were created. Complete ensembles were worked out—towels, washcloths, bathmats. That plant is reported to have maintained full capacity throughout the depression.

Foods have undergone marked development because of research followed by initiative. It was discovered that tomato juice is rich in vitamins A, B, and C, and in three years, tomato juice has caught the public's fancy. Progressive manufacturers of canning machinery were alert to their opportunity. In two years the sales of canned tomato juice have a gain of 629 per cent., and bottled 177 per cent.

Today there is no paucity of opportunities. But there is paucity of vision, initiative, and courage to capitalize them. As Charles Kettering, vice-president in charge of research, General Motors Corporation, says, "Business will come back when we get products that people want to buy. If one-tenth of the energy was spent in getting such products instead of stirring up the mud, we would get along better."

The task of leaders is to see that there is not an industry or a line of manufacture but efforts to appreciate opportunity for initiative. Today, during the days of the World War, executives might think to advantage as Marshal Foch was thinking when he said, "To hell with history and principles! What is the problem?"

Britain Is Providing

Underground Airports

'Planes Will Use Inclines To Come To Surface

Underground airports are to be provided for the British Air force. This decision was made after it was found that no camouflage could hide the hangars from the powerful lenses now being used in military cameras. The new airfields will be at a minimum depth of thirty feet. There will be inclines for 'planes to come to the surface and take off.

It is good to have money and the things money can buy; but it is good, too, to check up once in a while, and make sure you haven't lost the things money can't buy.

Men's Greatest Invention

Hammer Is More Necessary Than Any Tool Made

If you ask half a dozen people what they consider to be the greatest invention ever made, the majority will suggest such things as the steam engine, the dynamo, or the electric telegraph. But these are only the results of a much earlier and far more important discovery. The earliest and greatest invention ever made by man was the hammer.

You cannot undertake any piece of constructional work without a hammer. Though you may not actually use it, it must have been employed in making the tools with which you do the work. The hammer was the first tool which enabled man to multiply his strength; to do something which was impossible with his bare hands.

It was probably invented by a remote ancestor who had the inspiration to use a stone for cracking the shell of an oyster or whet. The earliest hammers had no handle. They were merely conveniently shaped stones held in the palm of the hand.

Fasten such a stone to a handle and you have a much more effective tool. Sharpen its business end to an edge by chipping off flakes, and it becomes a stone axe. The formation of an edge on the earliest flint tools could be done only by means of a hammer. The hammer thus gave birth to both the axe and the adze, the earliest of cutting tools.

From the adze and the chisel to the saw is but a step. The drill is simply a small chisel. It was first fixed to a round shaft and rotated by the palms of the hands; later, primitive man invented the bow and string method of turning it. The bow and string drill is still in use in certain trades.

Medical Science Finds

Chinese Doctors Right

Experiments Prove "Pin-Prick" Cure Has Its Merits

The Chinese doctors have one method of curing their patients which has always bewildered and amused the western world. If a man is in the stick a pin into him. If not a pin, at any rate, a needle or a copper wire filed to a point. They do just that, and nothing more. No drugs are used.

In a good many ailments this cure has nearly always been successful, and westerners put it down to faith curing—the powers of suggestion. Now, after many centuries, medical science has decided there is something in it, and the Chinese experts are asked to demonstrate their methods.

Pricking a patient with a needle in the right spot has a certain effect on nerve centres. Experiments have shown that it causes a cessation of violent neuralgia, or sciatica; it has given temporary relief from asthma and has proved helpful in various forms of stomach or internal disorders, giving instant relief.

Research into acupuncture—"pin-prick cure"—has only just started, but it is quite likely that in a few years it will be largely used instead of pain-soothing drugs.

Stock Exchange Seats Up

Estimated Value Shows Big Increase In Short Time

With the recent sale of a seat on the New York Stock Exchange for $120,000 the value of the 1,375 seats went up by 33 per cent. The estimated worth of the seats is now placed at $165,000,000, an increase of $41,250,000 over the total of a week before.

The traders in Wall Street are preparing to pick up where they left off a few years ago. It is getting on for three years since the crash on October 29, 1929, when 16,400,000 shares changed hands.

People have been hoarding their money for a long time. They are beginning to feel the itch to spend. The stock exchange is one of the barometers, even if it is a place where many lose their savings. And the exchange is girding itself for a pick up in its business.—Border Cities Star.

Higher Education Popular

There were 57,294 students in the twenty-three universities in Canada during 1931, and 25,137 attended the 101 colleges in the Dominion. Of the total of individual students at both universities and colleges there were 48,354 males and 25,799 females who followed the higher education. The ladies secured 35.7 per cent. of the diplomas, licenses and degrees granted.

Motion Without Motive

Chinese Description Of Western Civilization Fits Speed Maniac

Judging by the number of convictions in recent weeks, the Ontario authorities are in earnest in their determination to make the highways of that Province safe for the average motorist.

There is rarely any intelligent reason for driving a car beyond a reasonable speed. Occasionally, in an emergency, fast driving may be justified. For the most part it is merely craziness.

One of the most frequent causes of fast driving is the desire merely to pass some one on the way to nowhere in particular. Which gives point to the Chinese observer's description of Western civilization as "motion without motive." The speed maniac might just as well be driving around an enclosed motor speedway as on the public highways. Perhaps something of the kind may eventually be provided for those infected with the speed virus.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Buys His Home Village

After an absence of more than 40 years, William McGregor, who left his home in Latheronville, Caithness, Scotland, to seek his fortune in Australia, has returned to become the owner of his native village. As a boy he was employed in herding cows. Director of several Australian companies, he came back to visit his sister, Miss Jessie McGregor, who still lives in the cottage where they were born. He bought the village when it was placed on the market recently. It has about 120 inhabitants.

Mine Taken Over By Workers

Interesting Experiment Is Under Way In Nova Scotia

For a quarter of a century the people of Inverness, N.S., have been working for somebody else. Now they will be in business for themselves, directing and operating the coal mine that is the only industry in the town, and marketing its products.

Their co-operative plan, approved recently by the government of Nova Scotia, is expected to banish the threat, long dreaded by the town's 3,000 inhabitants, that the mine would be closed.

Under the agreement with the government, operation and control of the mine has been transferred to a new company, the Inverness Coal Co-operative Company Limited, members of which are to be miners employed in that mine and taxpayers of Inverness.

Canadian Radio Programme Broadcast From 'Plane

Contact Made With Station, From Height Of 3,000 Feet

An advertising stunt that proved of some scientific importance was accomplished here recently when Arthur Dupont, local radio announcer, and Sydney M. Nesbitt, aeroplane club official, successfully established contact with a Montreal radio station while flying 3,000 feet over the city. Both men gave short addresses which were clearly received by many wireless fans. It was believed to be the first Canadian radio program broadcast from an aeroplane, though short addresses were broadcast from the airship R-100 over Ottawa in 1930.

Worms in children work havoc. They attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

New Paint Seems Uncanny

How hot a kettle is at any moment can be told by the color of a paint which has just been invented. A kettle painted with the new material, which is a mixture of salts of mercury and copper, looks bright red when cold, but as it warms up above 140 degrees it becomes maroon colored. At 20 degrees higher it takes on a dull chocolate hue, and at boiling point it is quite black. Cooling brings its color back.

Feeder Purchase Policy

Designed To Encourage Winter Feeding Of Cattle and Lambs

Renewal of the Feeder Purchase Policy designed to encourage the winter feeding of cattle and lambs of suitable type and quality is announced by the Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. Under the terms of this policy, broadly put, the Federal Department will pay the reasonable travelling expenses of a farmer or his agent to the stockyard point of purchase, the feeder sales, or nearest station to range point at which feeder stock is purchased. To secure the benefits of the policy at least one car of stock (20 head of cattle or 40 lambs, or a combined car, figured on 2 lambs as the equivalent of one beef animal) must be purchased. Stock purchased is subject to approval as to type and suitability by the official representative of the Dominion Live Stock Branch serving the point of purchase. Special provision has been made to extend the benefits of the policy respectively to farmers of Eastern Canada, of the Prairie Provinces, and of British Columbia.

Complete details and information about the policy and the benefits can be secured by writing the nearest stockyard agent of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, or direct to R. S. Hamer, Chief, Cattle Division, Dominion Live Stock Branch, Ottawa. The policy is operative for a period of five months from and after August 1, 1932.

Ontario Relief Organization

Public Welfare Board For Each Municipality To Handle Direct Relief

Organization of a public welfare board for each municipality to administer direct relief is recommended in the report of the advisory committee on direct relief to the Ontario Government, and announced by Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith, Minister of Public Works and Labor. Where possible, it is also suggested that an association or league of organizations interested in public welfare should be organized to act in an advisory capacity and arrange for the conduct of campaigns in connection with the raising of funds, etc.

Irish Free State Farmers Seek End Of Tariff War With Britain

Dublin, Ireland.—Ratepayers and farmers of the counties of Dublin, Meath and Kildare, meeting in the Mansion House, adopted a resolution calling upon the Dail Eireann to end immediately economic war against the United Kingdom.

The resolution included a request that every county in the Irish Free State should hold meetings to prepare for a convention to be held in Dublin, September 15, with a view to the adoption of effective measures. The motion added that the 20 per cent. tariff on all livestock and farm produce imposed by the United Kingdom following the failure of the Irish Free State to pay land annuities must lead to ruin for the whole farming community of the Free State.

"It is useless for De Valera to talk about a scheme for growing more wheat," declared Captain Daly, County Dublin. "The Free State Minister of Agriculture (Dr. James Ryan), never tilted a piece of land in his life. Is a farmer to put cattle out on the land and let them die?"

Four hundred Meath farmers met at Navan and called on all farmers' organizations to co-operate in a campaign for safeguarding Free State agriculture.

Plan Has Collapsed

Iowa Farmers Allow Produce To Enter Des Moines
Des Moines, Iowa.—Farm produce was brought unhindered into Des Moines with the collapse of the last straw farmers' holiday picket line. Sheriff Charles F. Keeling, a force of deputies, and truck drivers, all armed with clubs, massed on highway 65, north of the city, and forced their way through members of the Farmers' Holiday Association, who seek to force higher agricultural prices by keeping produce from the markets. The "big push" against the blockade, after starting at a point five miles from Ames, resulted in the free movement of produce into this capital city.

Prefers Northern Port

Steamship Captain Says Churchill Easier Port To Reach Than Montreal

Churchill, Man.—"I have hundreds of friends and acquaintances in Montreal, but in fairness I must tell you that I much prefer to sail into Churchill than into Montreal. You can sail in here without fear or worry and that's more than you can say for Montreal. We had a wonderful passage. We are glad to get the business."

This was the statement of Capt. C. Blacklock, commander of the S.S. Silkworth, Newcastle, who arrived here to load wheat for the United Kingdom.

Keep Cotton Off Markets

Washington.—A $50,000,000 fund was available to keep government-controlled cotton off the market until 1933. For six or seven months, at least, all sales would be halted under a plan devised by the farm board and financed by the reconstruction corporation.

Next Conference At Banff

Banff, Alberta.—With delegates from nine countries and observers from various national and international governing authorities, the Institute of Pacific Relations will hold its fifth biennial conference at the Banff Springs hotel during August, 1933.

Chancellor Von Papen Is Calmly Awaiting The Turn Of Events

Berlin, Germany.—Chancellor Franz von Papen will refrain from dissolving the new reichstag only if his cabinet is empowered by a special emergency law to govern for six months without parliamentary support, the Associated Press has learned.

Officials of the new reichstag, which held its first session Tuesday, August 30, have attempted to obtain an immediate audience with President von Hindenburg for the purpose of trying to convince him the legislature is able to carry on parliamentary government.

Earl Of Egmont Weds

Marriage To Daughter Of Prominent Calgary Resident Is Announced
Calgary, Alberta.—The Earl of Egmont left Calgary bound on a honeymoon trip to Vancouver. The 19-year-old Priddy rancher was married to Ann Geraldine Moodie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Moodie, prominent Calgary residents.

The wedding was held quietly at St. Mary's Cathedral and was a surprise to friends of both the bride and groom. The youthful earl had been acquainted with his bride only a short while, meeting her shortly after his arrival from England two months ago.

Following the wedding the young couple departed for Vancouver. They will be accompanied by a party including Jasper Park in the Rockies. Their plans after the honeymoon have not been announced but it is believed they will take a trip to the old country.

Only close relatives attended the ceremony, the bride being given away by her uncle, C. A. Dowling, of Calgary.

Early in June the young Earl returned to Calgary following the death in an auto accident of his father after which he succeeded to the title. He went immediately to his little ranch at Priddy, near Calgary, where he was born and, to the little home his father left to take up residence in England when he obtained the title.

Declaring himself tired of "the lonely life of an earl," the young man joined in ranch life, taking up where he left off when he departed for England.

Following the Calgary stampede in July when he officiated in the prize awards, the earl spent some time in Calgary. It was during his stay that he became acquainted with Miss Moodie. And it was only a short while until the acquaintance blossomed into romance that finally resulted in the recent event.

Very little information could be obtained from the bride's father or mother regarding the wedding, and the earl refused to meet newspapermen.

Free State Imposes Duties

Duties On Sheep and Poultry Aimed To Help Home Industry

Dublin, Ireland.—Duties on sheep and poultry imported into the Irish Free State were announced by the government as a further encouragement to home industry.

A duty of 11 shillings and three pence ($2.70) per head will be imposed on all sheep and three shillings (72 cents) on all poultry imported by the terms of the order which was issued under the Emergency Duties Act. Two-thirds of the full rate is applicable as a preferential rate in the British Empire and the United Kingdom.

The duties are not directed against the United Kingdom as the imports of sheep and poultry from there are negligible. The main trade is carried out between the Free State and northern Ireland.

Employees Get Bonus

Chicago.—The brokerage firm of Eitinger and Brand announced that employees would be paid a 10 per cent. bonus for the month of August. The staff earned it, officials announced, because business was so good they had to work overtime.

Conference Starts Work

Agricultural Experts Get Down To Business At Toronto

Toronto, Ont.—Dividing into committees for intensive work, Canada's first conference of agricultural experts, federal, provincial and academic, summoned by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, grappled with the farmer's greatest problem—how to make farming pay when prices are low.

A national advisory council to continue the work of co-ordination, was advocated by Mr. Weir at the opening session, and possibly provincial councils to deal with problems of purely provincial importance. Agricultural organizations, he contended, should join forces rather than work separately on the same problems.

S. E. Todd, secretary of the Industrial Council of the Canadian Meat Packers' Association, announced that hereafter packing houses will permit government inspectors to inspect hog carcasses "on the rail" in the abattoirs. This concession is expected to help Canada in the United Kingdom market against competition from Denmark, where bacon producers have for some time enjoyed the advantage of government inspection in the killing plant.

To Attend League Meeting

De Valera Announces Intention To Represent Free State At Gathering

Dublin, Ireland.—President Eamon de Valera has decided to attend the forthcoming meeting of the council of the League of Nations, it is understood in official circles here. He will probably be elected chairman of the council this year.

It is rumored Dublin will again be visited by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary of state for the dominions in the United Kingdom government. He is expected to take the lead in further negotiation for removing the differences between the Free State and the United Kingdom which arose from the land annuities dispute.

Canadian Author Drowned

Raymond Knister Widely Known As Successful Writer

Windsor, Ont.—Raymond Knister, 32, of Toronto, was drowned near Stony Point in Lake St. Clair. Knister was swimming and it is believed suffered a heart attack. He was a son of the late Robert Knister and widely known as a writer.

He wrote two novels, "White Narcissus" and "My Star Triumphant," a novelized life of Shelley which won the $2,500 prize offered by an Ottawa publishing firm in 1931.

Flyer Sets New Record

Floyd Bennett Field, N.Y.—A new speed record for United States transatlantic flying was set when Capt. James G. Hazlip, winning the cross country derby to Cleveland, flashed on to New York in an elapsed time of 10 hours, 19 minutes from Los Angeles. Right on his tail was Captain Roscoe Turner.

SUCCEEDS KREUGER

Bjorn Prytz, Stockholm industrialist, who has been selected by creditor concerns to be president of the International Reconstruction of the Swedish Match Company, of which the late Ivar Kreuger was head. He will attempt to settle up the affairs of the concern, which was the largest of its kind in the world before Kreuger's suicide bared its straits.

Review Of Empire Naval Defence Urged

Australian Minister Of Opinion Time Is Now Opportune

New York.—A despatch to the New York Times from Melbourne, Australia, says "Sir George Pearce, Commonwealth Minister of Defence, commenting on the suggestion that former Premier Stanley Bruce, while in London, England, would discuss naval defence with the British authorities, said the time was opportune for a review of empire naval defence."

He declared the Ottawa conference had laid down a basis for empire trade which must be carried by sea-borne traffic, therefore the question of empire naval defence called for a new orientation.

The present defences, Sir George said, could not by any stretch of the imagination be said to be satisfactory for such a widely scattered empire.

Making Final Payment

Britain Wipes Out Foreign Credit Debt Of 1931

London, England.—With the repayment of £500,000,000 to France on September 10, the United Kingdom will have repaid in full the entire amount of foreign credits obtained by the treasury in the financial crisis of September, 1931.

The credits totalled $200,000,000 from the United States, and 5,000,000,000 francs from France, of which half was advanced by banks and the remainder subscribed by the French public in the form of bonds.

The whole of the United States credit was repaid by the treasury in March and April, with the right to re-borrow $50,000,000 at any time up to August 28. This right, not having been exercised will now finally lapse.

Move By Germany For Modification Of The Versailles Treaty

Marathon Winner

Geo. Blagden, Of Memphis, Wins $7,500 Prize

Toronto, Ont.—Triumph over the cold waters of Lake Ontario and 189 of the world's best swimmers, George Samuel Blagden, young Memphis, Tenn., law student, swam his way into fame and a fair-sized fortune by winning the Canadian National Exhibition's 15-mile marathon here.

In a day of thrills, a day in which a crowd estimated at more than 102,000 alternately cheered and groaned, Blagden took the lead before the swim was half over, fought off all challenges, and set a new world's record for the distance of seven hours, 18 minutes, 52.3 seconds. He collected $7,500 in cash for his day's work.

Here is the order of finish: George Blagden, Memphis, Tenn., 7 hours, 19 minutes, 52.3 seconds, $7,500.

Gianna Gambi, Italy, 7 hours, 24 minutes, 27 seconds, $2,000.

Isodore Sponder, Port Colborne, Ont., 7 hours, 30 minutes, 3.5 seconds, $700.

Marvin Nelson, Port Dodge, Ia., 7 hours, 38 minutes, 27.2 seconds, $500.

Bill Goll, New York, 7 hours, 41 minutes, 23.2 seconds, $200.

Harry Glancy, Cincinnati, 8 hours, 11 minutes, 10 seconds, $100.

House Opening Date Not Yet Decided

Empire Parliaments Plan To Assemble At Same Time

Calgary, Alberta.—Parliaments of the British Empire are planning to assemble at similar dates and until some definite time has been arranged, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will not be able to announce the opening date of the Canadian assembly.

In a statement to the Canadian Press Mr. Bennett denied reports from Montreal that the Ottawa body would meet October 6. He is in communication with other countries, he said, and expected to be able to announce shortly when the Canadian parliament would meet.

Canada has not yet been notified of the official date of the opening of the British House, nor of the day of convening of parliament in some of the other Dominions.

Germany Wants Right To Fortify Frontiers

Also Ask Abrogation Of Treaty Clause Limiting Army Strength

Paris, France.—Germany has officially informed the French Government of her desire of military equality with France. The notice was given through the French embassy at Berlin.

Germany asked the right to fortify the French and Polish frontiers and abrogate the provisions of the Versailles treaty limiting the German army strength to 100,000 men.

The Germans stressed that they considered the military provisions of the Versailles treaty abrogated by the Allies' failure to reduce their own armies.

Paris, France.—Germany's attempt to free herself from the limits imposed on her armaments by the Versailles treaty was discussed in great detail at a meeting of the cabinet, but at the conclusion of the session not a word was forthcoming concerning the stand France will take.

Although every member of the government was uncommunicative concerning the representations that have been made by Germany to France, it was understood the principal points in the German communication were these:

1. Modification of the Versailles treaty and its provision for a 12-year service basis in the German army.

2. Amalgamation of compulsory military service and the period served by the militia.

3. Sanction for a German army of 300,000 men. The present army numbers about 100,000.

4. Permission for Germany to maintain heavy, light and coastal artillery.

5. Permission for maintaining tanks for the German army.

6. Establishment of a complete military aviation corps.

7. Establishment of a school for military pilots.

8. Extension of the German navy by the addition of aeroplane carriers, cruisers and submarines.

9. Sanction for the construction of forts along Germany's frontiers.

10. Permission to build 35 war material factories.

It was learned authoritatively Premier Edouard Herriot refrained from discussing the German action because he wanted to observe correct usage. Secrecy was requested in the communication received from the Berlin government. This communication was in the form of an aide-memoire, which is a representation less formal than an official note.

A communique issued at the close of the cabinet session said only that the premier had informed his colleagues of the external situation.

The newspaper Le Temps said it understood the German Government was forwarding to Washington and Rome communications similar to the one sent to France.

Official circles expected the French Government to communicate without delay with the interested powers concerning the German move.

Le Temps asserted that Germany's "menace to re-arm" had deliberately destroyed the movement which was taking place for the reduction of armaments.

Abandons Return Flight

Captain Moulton Gives Up Plan To Return By Plane

Sydney, N.S.—Content with the honor of being the first aviator to make a solo flight westward across the north Atlantic, Captain James A. Moulton has abandoned his plans for a return journey by plane to England.

The adventurous Scot accepted advice of Dr. Freeman O'Neill, his host here, to take things easy for a while. His wife, formerly Amy Johnson, and the hacker of his westward flight, Lord Wakefield, asked him not to attempt the return trip, and the captain gave in reluctantly.

Forge A New Economic Bond Which Will Bind British Empire

Calgary, Alberta.—A new economic bond which will bind the nations of the British Empire in more permanent unity than the antiquated legal bonds swept aside by the Statute of Westminster, was forged at the Imperial Economic Conference.

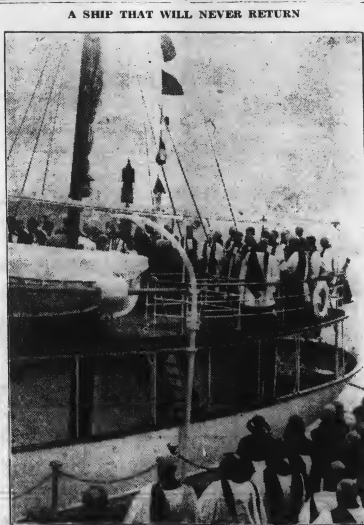

This was the impression of the conference obtained by Viscount Hallsham, Minister for War in the United Kingdom Government, who addressed the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association here. As one of the most distinguished British lawyers and jurists, Viscount Hallsham came here to convey the greetings of the legal profession of the United Kingdom to the lawyers of Canada. He has been twice attorney-general, and once lord chancellor of England.

Declaring his confidence that permanent benefits for both the Empire and the world would come from the agreements reached at the conference, Lord Hallsham said credit for them must go to the Prime Minister of Canada, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett. It was due to Mr. Bennett's "courage, vision and imperialism that the meeting at Ottawa was made possible and the disintegration of the British Empire did not begin in 1930."

A resolution of thanks was moved to Lord Hallsham by Hon. W. J. Major, attorney-general of Manitoba. Hon. N. W. Rowell, vice-president of the Bar Association, presided.

In recognition of his long activity in the association, Premier R. B. Bennett was honored with the position of honorary life-president.

Dedication of the "Southern Cross" by the Archbishop of Canterbury at Greenwich, London, England, was a very colorful ceremony. The "Southern Cross" is a Church of England vessel, built at a cost of $100,000 as the headquarters of the Bishop of Melanesia. She will sail from London for the Melanesian Islands in the Southern Pacific Ocean never to return. It is to work among the sick and suffering in the islands. Above is a general view of the ceremony in the stern of the boat.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Workers Unity League organizers complain of "heckling" at open-air meetings held in Coleman. Their absurd statements, in which are combined the essence of spite and insult, will not pass unchallenged by groups of workers who refuse to follow the lead of itinerant agitators who come from nobody knows where.

The Journal has and will continue to vigorously oppose irresponsible who come as propagandists of the W. U. L. Since the local affiliation of the M.W.U. of C. was brought under the domination of this outfit of self-seekers it has opposed them, knowing full well that in time the workers who had favored affiliation would find that such an organization as the W.U.L. had nothing constructive to offer them in alleviating labor problems. It is an organization in which a small number of Canadian workers have confidence, because it is not a lawful trade union.

There may be, in the course of time, one solid union again organized to safeguard the rights of the coal miners of Canada, but it will require leaders far above the stamp of those who demonstrate their pitiful shortcomings by hurling insults at Coleman miners and all who are in accord with them. To term them a "scabby home local" and then solicit donations on pay day is an example of the inconsistency and lack of judgment these leaders are branded with.

The statements made from the soap box it is futile to argue against on a logical basis, for they are devoid of reason. It is noticeable that in the last two meetings held here, the support of local workers was almost negligible. Were it not for the followers who came from the neighboring towns to bolster up the speakers, fortify them against opposition and give applause at the "wise-cracks," the local meetings would have been dismal "flaps." It is not likely that any converts to the W.U.L. were secured. The majority of the local workers prefer to stay with the home local.

It was the W.U.L. which by boring from within smashed the Mine Workers Union of Canada. What was predicted has come to pass. Deny it as forcibly as they may, the record of the past two years is sufficient evidence. Comparison of the strength of the M.W.U. of C. today compared with the year 1928 shows to what extent they have undermined the former union of Crow's Nest Pass workers.

This paper will continue to oppose the outlaw organization which has made such a rotten mess of the strike, and which, to save its face and collect dues, has given what it terms its sanction to call off the strike in Blairmore and Bellevue. The same claim was made in Coleman in May when the "Reds" saw they were routed. There is no credit coming to these rebels for either calling the strike or settling it, for it is a grossly mismanaged effort from start to finish.

The Journal will support a labor organization 100 per cent which is based on constitutional lines under responsible leaders. In the meantime it will give its support to Coleman home local, because it believes its executive is far more competent and better able to represent the claims of the workers than the "hangers-on" appointed by an executive which surrounded the offices of district officials by a policy of treachery.

In line with their policy to overthrow all who will not march behind the Red Flag of the W.U.L. "prostitute" leaders (their own term in describing opponents) still cherish the hope of calling another strike in Coleman, for they believe only in force or intimidation to bend people to their will. Their demonstrations at Bellevue and Blairmore indicate what their tactics would be were they to secure the whip-hand.

The workers at Blairmore and Bellevue resume work on the same basis as when they "downed tools" in February last. The strike leaders claim they prevented a wage cut. This is open to question. The miners of the Crow's Nest Pass carried on strikes before the W.U.L. was thought of, and maintained a solid front throughout Alberta, which has not been evident under W.U.L. organization. Their methods have brought loss and disunity among the miners instead of "solidarity," and to turn attention from their own miserable failures, they tell the miners that the bosses have split their ranks.

It is hoped that out of the wreck a Moses will arise who will re-organize the Canadian mine workers into a truly national organization, and ditch the "clap-net" orators whose interest for the workers consists primarily of retaining their jobs as propagandists of a revolutionary organization.

A subscriber asked that a reminder be made in "Notes and Comments" that courtesy and civility are important requisites if one in business desires to maintain and promote friendly relationship between himself and customers. Just whom he had in mind he would not divulge. One who lacks these qualities is under a severe handicap.

Co-operation is the only plan by which happiness may be achieved, and that undergoes its trials, for the natural law is that man must work in order to survive, and not throw the burden of his existence on others. If labor and capital were to be continually at war, chaos would result. Though all may be born equal, yet all do not develop their talents or abilities to the same degree. The stronger will rule. The law of the survival of the fittest is not a man made law, it is a natural law.

Local News

Col. R. F. Barnes attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association at Calgary and Banff, at which notables from Canada and other countries present. At Banff the serious minded gentlemen enjoyed some fun, including a cow-milking contest, which was won by Monsieur Olivier Jallo of Paris. It was a very enjoyable gathering, states Mr. Barnes.

Drumheller played a second game here on Saturday evening, the score being 2-1 in their favor against Coleman's selection. Coleman's line-up: McDonald, J. Anderson, N. Evans, (Bellevue); Griffiths, McGovern (McLure); McFarland (McLure); D'Esle (Hillcrest); Watson (Hillcrest); McVey (Corbin); "Daniels (Hillcrest); Barker (Michel). The scoring was in the first half.

A car driven by J. Filaflo Jr. collided with a Blairmore taxi on Monday, both cars being damaged so badly that they had to be towed home. Mr. Wostenholme and a passenger were in the Blairmore car, and Mrs. Lant was in the Coleman car. All escaped without injury, except Mrs. Lant receiving a cut over the eye. It occurred near the railway crossing leading to East Coleman.

Here and There

Popularity of Canadian apples abroad has notably increased, and last year apple exports to Europe from Western Canada reached a new high record of 1,174,000 boxes, as compared with 1,000,000 boxes in 1930. Fruit growers are anticipating an even larger crop this year.

R. Y. Daanlaad, formerly Traveling Passenger Agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, Winnipeg, was appointed District Passenger Agent, Algoma District, North Bay, Ont., effective August 16th. Mr. Daanlaad has had a long and successful career with the Company, and is now receiving congratulations on his most recent promotion.

Numbers of anglers returning through Ottawa and Montreal report having experienced exceedingly good bass fishing. This was the expression of a group from Cincinnati, Ohio, who recently visited the bass fishing waters of the Gatineau River, north of Maniwaki, according to A. O. Seymour, General Tourist Agent, Canadian Pacific Railway.

This is evidently the peak year with partridge, one would judge from the reports emanating from various parts of the Laurentian and Gatineau districts of Quebec, according to A. O. Seymour, General Tourist Agent, Canadian Pacific Railway. In almost every locality partridge, as the ruffed grouse and Franklin grouse are best known, are very plentiful. Most flocks hatched this year are nearly full grown.

New freight rates on live stock with low minimum weights to meet the competition of motor trucks in the transportation of animals to market have been put into effect by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways covering movement from stations within a radius of 150 miles of Toronto, and these were effective from August 15. The new rates are being tried out as an experiment, and it is expected they will result in a very substantial increase in the rail movement of cattle, sheep, and hogs.

One of the most interesting passengers arriving in Montreal by the Canadian Pacific S.S. Duchess of Richmond on August 13 was "Miss England III", the world's fastest motor-boat. After the international races with Gar Wood's boat at Detroit, Kaye Don will take "Miss England III" to Toronto, where visitors at the Canadian National Exhibition will be able to see an attempt by the powerful vessel to lower her own or any other new world's record. The big speed boat was accompanied in the Duchess of Richmond by R. E. Garner, senior mechanic, and "mote" to Kaye Don during the races.

Two hundred organizations affiliated with the governing body of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, whose seventh annual convention will be held at Halifax, September 13-15, will send members to a pre- and post-convention sea cruise and land tour with the Clarke Steamship Co., the Dominion Atlantic and the Canadian Pacific Railways, scheduled to leave Montreal September 3 and return there September 15. The sea cruise will be on the S.S. New Northland, calling at Charlottetown, Sydney, St. Pierre-Miquelon, St. John's, Newfoundland, and Halifax, prior to the convention, and will cover the Maritime Provinces after it.

Cost of travel to Eastern Quebec, the Lower St. Lawrence and to resorts in the Maritime Provinces has been deflated this summer in a fare revolution that has never been equalled in the history of the railroads of Canada. This reduction works out at about five and one-tenth for the round trip to any one of a score of glorious summer centres on Canada's unsurpassed Atlantic seaboard with proportionately reduced fares to many other destinations in eastern Quebec and the Maritime Provinces which are also in effect from start to the province of Quebec, Montreal and west, and also in Ontario, Sudbury, Capreol, Windsor, Sarnia and east. This great concession by the railways of Canada is an offer during the month of August, with a return limit of 21 days.

FORMER SOCIALIST ON CAPITALISM

Snowden Talks on Capitalism in House of Lords in England

I perhaps have time, before passing to the possibilities of tax reduction, to say a word or two about the speech of the noble lord, Lord Marley, last week. Lord Marley on that occasion predicted the impending collapse of capitalism. Well, I was preaching Socialism throughout the length and breadth of Great Britain when the noble lord was in swaddling clothes and I never have based my ideas and conception of a Socialist state upon the ruins of a destroyed capitalistic system. I dare say that the noble lord remembers a rather well known Socialist, who died a few years ago, H. M. Hyndman.

Mr Hyndman was always preaching the coming collapse of capitalism, and he was not a wise prophet in that respect, because he committed himself to fixing a definite date when that was going to happen. However, when that date arrived and capitalism had not collapsed he put it on another ten years. Now, may I recommend my noble friend, Lord Marley, if he has not already done it, to read a new edition of Mr Hyndman's book on "Crises of the Nineteenth Century," which has just been issued, and there he will find that the crisis in which we are today is not a new thing at all. It only differs in this respect, that the world is a much bigger place today. International relations are so much more intricate and closely associated and therefore, a crisis affects a great many more countries and peoples than a crisis did in previous years. At such times there have always been those who are proclaiming the collapse of the capitalistic system.

Well, the system is not going to end just yet. Some of my Socialist friends have never realized the tremendous recuperative power of capitalism, and we shall see ourselves through this crisis, although mark you, I am not in the least ignoring the importance of changes—to use the phrase of noble lords opposite—our plan of national organization and national reconstruction. But I certainly cannot follow the noble lord, Lord Marley, in going to Russia for an example. The noble lord said that there were no unemployed in Russia. I do not think he would find many unemployed in Dastmoor jail.

Russia is under a system of industrial conscription. Russia has confiscated all the capital, repudiated all public debts, and yet, starting without any capital liability at all, Russia has ever since been coming to the capitalistic countries of the world cap in hand, begging them for export trade and loans—to the country which has repudiated its liabilities! No, No, Russia does not attract me, I shall never live to see the establishment of a Socialist state, but I believe that economic evolution is working in that direction. But may God save England from such a Socialism as they have in Russia Today!

THREW AWAY HIS STICK

When Sciatica Yielded to Kruschen

There can be no doubt that this man has finished walking with a stick. For it is now four years since he discarded it.

He writes:—"For 18 months I suffered with chronic sciatica and rheumatism, and was unable to walk without the aid of a stick. But after taking Kruschen Salts for a short time, I was able to throw away the stick. It is now four years since this happened, and I have had no return of the complaint, and have not lost a day from work. I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, as they are worth their weight in gold. You can see this letter as you please, as I can honestly recommend Kruschen Salts to any sufferer."—C. F.

If the eliminating organs become sluggish, they permit harmful uric acid to accumulate and deposit itself in the tissues, muscles and joints in the form of needle-pointed crystals, which, piercing the nerve sheaths, cause excruciating pains of sciatica. The six salts in Kruschen stimulate the eliminating organs to healthy, regular action. Mischievous uric acid is then given no chance to collect.

Liner Card-Sharps Have Lost Occupation

Practice Is Almost Unknown Now On Atlantic Boats

In many of the world's big cities today, including London, England, are the scattered bands of clever and well-educated men who at one time were expert card-sharps on the great luxury liners.

The depression, which brought about a scarcity of easy money, helped the police in their vigorous campaign against these men, who specialize in card-sharpping aboard ships. Their expenses were high, and the stakes at most of the games were too low to produce any profit after paying their fares as first-class passengers.

Card-sharpping on the Atlantic liners is today almost unknown.

New Form Of Advertising

Interesting Process Used To Project Writing On Clouds

Sky writing, a new form of advertising in which the message is projected on the clouds at night, was demonstrated at London. The government recently decided the method was legal. The process involves the use of metal stencils placed in the beam of a powerful searchlight to cast letters on to the cloud base. The searchlight used is of 450,000,000 candle power. For skywriting purposes the limit of its really effective range appears to be a cloud base of about 3,000 feet high. Most of the legends shown contained up to twenty-five letters. Some include a design such as the British lion.

The process of outlining profiles through by shadow on to a white sheet had just been introduced at that time, and as these pictures were considered exactly to resemble the Minister's avowed policy, his name was immediately bestowed upon them.

Increase Shown In Canada-Empire Trade

Statistical Review Issued By Department Of Trade And Commerce

Canada is becoming more empire conscious in her purchases. A statistical review, issued by the Department of Trade and Commerce, showed that nearly 30 per cent. of the Dominion's imports in July came from empire countries as compared with only 26.3 in the corresponding month last year.

The percentage of foreign imports dropped from 73.7 per cent. in July to approximately 70 per cent.

Compared with the preceding July, Canadian imports last month from foreign countries registered a drop of $10,821,346, while those from empire countries decreased by only $2,000,000.

In July Canada wrested from the Netherlands second place amongst countries of the world in supplying the cheese market of the United Kingdom. British trade figures, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports, show that the leading importations were: New Zealand, 16,602,208 pounds; Canada, 12,286,288 pounds; and Netherlands, 11,384,656 pounds.

There was a sharp advance in the importation of Canadian canned salmon by the United Kingdom in July. British trade figures give the amount as 1,726,928 pounds as compared with 488,872 pounds a year ago. The United States supply last month was 465,584.

American Nature Association Party Met With Success in Rockies

After four weeks on the trail along the northern boundary of Jasper National Park and the adjacent mountains of British Columbia, the American Nature Association party returned to Jasper Park Lodge with several thousand feet of big game motion picture films.

Under the leadership of Arthur N. Pack, Princeton, N.J., president of the association, the party included Laurence S. Rockefeller, Tarrytown, N.Y., son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Mrs. Pack, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bryan, Jr., all of Princeton.

Some novel stalking won a number of fine shots for the camera crew. Wearing white costumes with hoods, Mr. and Mrs. Pack aroused sufficient interest among the ordinarily-suspicious animals to approach within a few feet of them on one occasion. In the Tonquin Valley the party discovered a herd of more than 100 caribou and acquired some fine close-ups. Later, in the Snake Indian River country, they ran across practically every kind of game in the Canadian Rockies.

"I got a fine shot," said Mr. Pack, "by dropping on hands and knees and imitating him when he lowered his head and stamped his foot to show anger. We exchanged bouquets and compliments until I had crawled to within ten feet of him. Then he took to his heels and it all made a fine picture."

A Worth-While Idea Here's a little white world keeping tucked back somewhere in your mind. Otherwise, in getting the spare loose the car may be shaken enough to cause it to slip off the jack.

British Parliamentarians Hon. Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, and his private secretary, Captain T. L. Dugdale, M.P.

Distinguished Visitors Deliver Addresses On Trip Through Western Canada

By the achievement of the Imperial Conference we have shown how a great group of nations can organize for trade purposes along right lines, in the opinion of the Right Honorable Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, C.B.E., M.P., Secretary of State for the Colonies, expressed during a brief stop in Winnipeg on a tour over Canadian Pacific Railway lines to the west coast.

Sir Philip was accompanied by a group of keen young British parliamentarians eager to see western Canada in the harvest season. Among them were his own private secretary, Captain T. L. Dugdale, M.P., for Richmond and Yorkshire, one of the largest agricultural constituencies in England; J. F. L. Thomas, M.P., private secretary to the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs; Geoffrey Lloyd, M.P., private secretary to the Lord President of the Council; and Viscount Hinchinbrook, private secretary to the Right Honorable Stanley Baldwin.

In England, said the distinguished visitor, "we have taken the tariff out of politics and put it into business, making an entirely business proposition. The tariff has to be adjusted to what the producers need and no more. Recognition of that fact marks all the agreements that were reached at the conference. Everything was approached from the point of view of getting the equilibrium between supply and demand, so that all would get the fairest prices."

Sir Philip felt that British manufacturers would devote more attention to developing the Canadian market as a result of the concessions made by the Dominion Government and that the situation and the market possibilities were already being studied. He had every confidence in the ultimate results.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies and his party spent a week-end in Banff as guests at Banff Springs Hotel and the surrounding resorts, through which they motored. Proceeding to the Pacific Coast Sir Philip addressed several meetings under Canadian Club auspices and also spoke at Winnipeg on his return trip at a board of trade luncheon at the Royal Alexandra Hotel.

ISRAEL JOURNEYING TOWARD CANAAN

The Start From Sinai, verses 11-28.—The children of Israel left Egypt an undisciplined rabble. Now they are an orderly host—they set forth according to their journeys. In due order they advanced, first the camp of Judah, and then the other tribes in their prescribed order, the ark and the tabernacle and all its furnishings in the care of those appointed for this service. They wrote on the way to "the place of which the Lord said, 'I will give it to you.'" unaware as yet that more than thirty-eight years would pass before their descendants, not they themselves, would enter that Promised Land.

"The path of life we walk today is strange as that which the Hebrews trod." We need the shadowing rock as they; We need like them, the guide of God."

The Proposal To Hobab, verses 29-32.—Hobab was Moses' brother-in-law, according to Judges 4.11, the son of Jethro, who had visited Moses at Sinai and had returned to his home, Exodus 18.27. Before starting on the march Moses besought Hobab to go with them. "Come thou with us, and we will do thee good," he said with confidence, assured that God would be with them, and that the good which would come to them from God they would share with Hobab. Moses was right in telling Hobab that they would do him good. "Unprogressive, out of the way of the great movements of humanity, gaining nothing as generations went by, but simply reproducing the habits and treasuring the beliefs of their fathers, Hobab's Arab tribe had no prospect, no future. Compared with that poor outlook, how good it would be to share the noble task of establishing on the soil of Canaan a nation devoted to truth and righteousness, in league with the living God, destined to extend His kingdom, and realize His faith the means of blessing to all."—Robert A. Watson.

Can you truthfully say to others that if they come with you, you will do them good? Are you high-minded and true, so that your association with others will help to elevate and ennoble them?

British Speed Up Telephone System

Invention Called "Ghost Circuit" Permitted By Post Office

In an effort to speed up the British telephone system the post-office has perfected an invention which is expected to prove revolutionary. A new system of "ghost" telephone circuits using one pair of telephone lines has been introduced.

It established a new British record when first inaugurated to tell the world of Kaye Don's record-breaking run in the British speed boat, "Miss England III," on Loch Lomond.

"The new development is based on the carrier wave system of voice transmission," said an official of the G.P.O.

"It is really after the principle of wireless applied to the telephone. The engineers, who have been testing at the research station in London, have established that in theory one circuit of two wires can be used for any number of circuits.

"Conversation on the 'ghost' circuit is absolutely private. This is regarded as a great achievement."

Church Service Held On Nelson's Flagship

Was Notable Event Of Navy Week At Portsmouth

Naval officers and bluejackets stood bareheaded with citizens of Portsmouth, on the decks of the Victory, for the first public church service that has ever been held to usher in Navy Week.

More than a thousand people gathered on the stone pavings below surrounding the famous old warship to join in the service, which was relayed by loud speakers.

The hymns were, "O God our help in ages past," and "For those in peril on the sea."

The Bishop of Portsmouth based his sermon on the life of the navy's greatest admiral, Nelson.

A small group of people afterwards filed Nelson's day cabin, two decks below, surrounded by his own furniture, to receive communion from the admiral's own communion plate.

A Record For Speed

Parcel From Montreal Reached Bagdad In Thirteen Days

From Montreal to Bagdad in 13 days—this is the record established in sending a 10-pound sample consignment of Canadian industrial products to Bagdad.

Of the 13-day period, seven days were taken for an ordinary steamship crossing from Montreal to Liverpool. From the Merseyside the package was expressed to London, thence by automobile to Croydon airport where it was just in time to catch the London-Indian mail plane. On the 13th days of its journey the consignment reached its destination, ready to capture a new market in the Near East.

CHAPTER XXX.

The Gateway

Jean, her strained ankle now practically recovered, was tramping along the narrow footpath through the cornfield, following in Blaise's footsteps, while Nick brought up the rear of the procession. She had not seen Claire since her engagement had become an actual fact, though a characteristically warm-hearted little note from the latter had found its way to Staple, and this morning Jean had declared her inability to exist another day "without a heart-to-heart talk with Claire."

Hence the afternoon's pilgrimage across the cornfield which formed part of a short cut between Staple and Chamwood.

Facing her, as she reached the top-most step was a glass door, giving entrance to Claire's own particular sanctum, which usually, in summer, stood wide open to admit the soft, warm air and the fragrant scents breathed out from a border of old-fashioned flowers, sweet and prime and quaint, which encircled the base of the house.

Her eager glance flew ahead, searching the room's interior, clearly visible through the wide glass panel of the door. Then, with a startled cry, she halted, her hand clapped against her lips to stifle the involuntary exclamation of dismay and terror that had leapt to them.

The afternoon sunbeams, slanted in upon a picture of grotesque horror—a nightmare conception that could only have sprung from the macabre imagination of a madman.

In the middle of the room Claire sat bound to a high-backed chair, secured by cords which cut cruelly across her slender body. Her face had assumed a curious ashen shade, and her eyes were fixed in a numbed look of fascinated terror upon the tall, angular figure of her husband, which pranced in front of her jerkily, like a marionette, while he threatened her with a revolver, his thin lips, smiling cruelly, drawn back from his teeth like those of a snarling animal.

He was addressing her in queer high-pitched tones that had something inhuman about them—the sound, empty sound of a voice no longer controlled by a reasoning brain.

"And you needn't worry that Mr. Brennan will be overwhelmed with grief at your early demise. He won't—to-be-here—he gave a foolish, cackling laugh—"he won't, like a marionette, while he threatened her with a revolver, his thin lips, smiling cruelly, drawn back from his teeth like those of a snarling animal."

"I'll attend to that! There'll be a second bullet for your dear friend, Mr. Brennan."

Crack! The sharp report of a revolver shattered the summer silence as Jean sprang forward and wrenched at the handle of the door.

For a few breathless seconds Jean was in doubt—wondered wildly whether Sir Adrian would succeed in breaking away from his captors. Then she saw Nick's foot shoot out suddenly like the piston-rod of an engine, and Sir Adrian staggered and came crashing down on to his knees. The other two closed in upon him swiftly, and a minute later he was lying prone on his back with the three men holding him down by main force. With difficulty avoiding the protruding pieces of glass, Jean stepped into the room. Her first thought was for Claire, who now hung helpless and unconscious against the bonds that held her. But Blaise very speedily directed her attention to something of more urgent importance for the moment.

"Unlock that door," he called to her. "Quick!" He was still panting from the exertion of the recent struggle. "Get a rope of some sort!"

Jean turned the key and tore open the door leading into the hall. The little flock of servants gathered outside it overflowed into the room, frightened and excitedly inquisitive. "Get some cord, one of you," commanded Jean authoritatively. "Anything will do if it's strong."

Two or three of the servants broke away from the main body and ran frantically in search of the required cord, glad to be of use, and very soon Sir Adrian, bound as humanely as his struggles rendered possible, was borne to his room and laid upon his bed.

"Ring up the doctor," ordered Blaise, as he assisted in the rather difficult process of conveying Sir Adrian upstairs. "Tell him to come to Chamwood as quickly as he can get here." And another eager little detachment of domestics flew off to carry out his bidding. The underfootman won the race for the telephone by a good half-yard, and, in a voice which fairly twittered with the agitating and amazing news he had to impart, transmitted the message to the doctor's parlour-maid at the other end of the wire, adding a few picturesque and stimulating details concerning the struggle which had just taken place—and which, apparently, he had perceived with the eye of faith through the wooden panels of the locked door.

Meanwhile Nick and Jean had turned their attention toward the released Claire, who, as the last of her bonds was cut, toppled forward in a dead faint into the former's arms.

A second procession wended its way upstairs, Nick bearing the slight, unconscious figure in his arms while Jean and a kindly-faced housemaid followed.

"Her ladyship's maid is out, miss," volunteered the girl. "But perhaps it can help?"

Jean smiled at her, the frank, friendly smile that always won for her the eager, willing service of man and maid alike.

"I'm sure you can," she said gently. "As soon as we can bring her ladyship round, you shall help me undress her and put her to bed."

In a few minutes Claire recovered consciousness, but she was horribly shaken and distraught, and clinging to Jean or to the housemaid—who was almost crying, too, out of sympathy—like a child frightened by the dark.

Jean, understanding just what was needed, shepherded Nick to the door of the room, where he lay down, happily, his anxious gaze still fixed on the slender shrinking figure upon the couch.

"Don't worry, Nick," she said reassuringly. "She'll be all right; it's only reaction. But I know what she wants—she wants a real mother-person on down and ring up Lady Anne, will you, and ask her to come over in the car as quickly as she can."

Nick nodded; the idea commanded itself to him. His "pale golden narcissus," so nearly broken, would be safe indeed with the kind, comforting arms of his mother about her.

It was an intense relief to Jean when Lady Anne arrived and quietly and efficiently took command of affairs. And there was more need for her unruined poise and capability throughout the night that followed.

Claire, nervous and utterly unstrong, slept but little, waking constantly with a cry of terror as in imagination she relived the ordeal of the afternoon, while in the big bedroom across the landing, where her husband lay, the grim shadow of death itself was drawing momentarily closer.

By the time the doctor had arrived in answer to the summons sent, there seemed small need for the strong cords with which Sir Adrian's limbs were bound. The wild fury of the afternoon's struggle had thoroughly exhausted him, and he lay, propped up with pillows, apparently in a state of stupor, breathing very feebly.

"Heart," the doctor told Tormain after he had made a swift examination. "I've known for months that Sir Adrian might go out at any moment."

From the standpoint of real smoking pleasure, there's nothing like rolling your own with the smooth, mellow, fragrant Virginia tobacco that you get in the Turret Fine Cut package.

His heart was already impaired, and, of course, he'd drugged for years. He may recover a little, but if, as I think is highly probable, there's any recurrence of the brain disturbance—why, he'll not live out a second paroxysm. The heart won't stand it."

Tormain endeavored to look appropriately shocked. But the doctor was a man and an honest one, and not even professional etiquette prevented his adding, with a jerk of his head in the direction of Claire's bedroom: "It would be a merciful deliverance for that poor woman. There's a strain of madness in the Latimers, you know. And"—with a shrug—"naturally Sir Adrian's habits have accentuated it in his own case."

But the doctor was mistaken in calculations. Sir Adrian's constitution was stronger than he estimated. As Nick had once bitterly commented to Jean, the man was like a piece of steel wire, and two dreadful outbreaks of maniacal fury had to be endured before the wire began to weaken.

During the course of the first paroxysm it was said the four men could do to restrain him from leaping from the bed and rushing out of the room, since, during the period of quiescence which had preceded the doctor's arrival, a mistaken feeling of humanity had dictated the loosening of the cords which bound him.

He fought and screamed, uttering the most horrible imprecations, and his evil intent towards the woman who was his wife was unmistakable. With her husband free to work his will, Claire's life would not have been saved by a moment's purchase.

In the period of coma that succeeded this outbreak Sir Adrian was again secured, as mercifully as possible, against any possibility of doing his wife a mischief, and the second paroxysm which convulsed the bound and shackled madman was very terrible to witness.

Like its predecessor, this attack was followed by a stupor, during which Sir Adrian appeared more dead than alive.

He was palpably weaker, restorative failing to produce any appreciable effect, and towards morning in those chill, small hours when the powers of the body languish and fail, the crazed and self-tormented spirit of Adrian Latimer quitted a world in which he had been able to perceive none of those things that are just and pure, and lovely, and of good report, but only distrust and malice and, finally, black hatred.

A fortnight had come and gone. Sir Adrian's body had been laid to rest in Coombe Exvie churchyard, and Claire, in the simplest of widow's weeds, went about once more, looking rather frail and worn but with a fugitive light of happiness on her face that was a source of rejoicing to those that loved her.

German Medical Men Solve Old Problem

Claim Jealousy Caused By Excess Of Iodine In Blood

A number of prominent German medical men have solved the mystery of jealousy that has baffled the human race for many centuries. The Berlin physician simultaneously experimented on a number of women in municipal hospitals and have now come to the conclusion that an excess of iodine in the blood causes men and women to become jealous.

The medical men asked for volunteers to submit to experiments. The men were too proud and did not apply, but a great many women volunteered, and allowed themselves to be hypnotized. Blood was drawn from them and submitted to microscopic examination. It was proven that the blood of jealous women had a hundred per cent. more iodine than that of women not so disposed.

Externally Or Internally, It Is Good. When applied externally by brisk rubbing Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

Three-In-One "Did my medicine do any good?" "A wonderful remedy doctor. I took three spoonfuls and my cough went. I rubbed three spoonfuls into my knee for rheumatism, and the rest we used to clean the silver."

Indicative of the great urge modern girls have to travel, one single steamship company has 125 applicants for a single stewardess job they had open. Many were college girls.

All Her Children Were Troubled With Diarrhoea

Mr. J. J. Bickert, R.R. 1, Enderby, B.C., writes:—"Last Summer all my children were troubled with diarrhoea, and were so bad I did not know what to do. A friend told me to give them Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I got a bottle, and after a couple of doses you should have seen the change. The children were soon well again, and I am very thankful to your wonderful remedy. I find it the only one that relieves so easily and quickly."

Personal and Local

Miss B. L. Dunlop and Miss Olga Hole spent the week-end the guests of Miss Reynolds at Fernie.

Mrs. R. J. Haining of Turner Valley has been the guest of Mr. C. and Mrs. A. Dewar during the past two weeks.

Little Billy Milley borrowed a shovel and a broom from home, and cleaned off some of the stones and gravel on the hill leading to Sixth street. He did his good turn for the day.

Mrs. W. Hoggan and children returned from Arrow Lakes, B. C., where they spent the summer holidays. Mr. Hoggan made the trip to bring them back by auto.

Mr. Wm. Carswell of Glasgow, Scotland; Mrs. Allan Carswell and daughter Jean, of Lundbreck, left on Saturday morning for a vacation in Vancouver.—Lethbridge Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Howarth and son John spent the week-end at Waterton and Glacier national parks. Mr. Howarth attending the gathering of the American Legion and the Canadian Legion peace meeting at Bab, Montana. Next year a similar meeting will be held at Waterton.

A number of Coleman people attended the exhibition and sports at Bellevue on Monday. The exhibition was fully up to the standard of previous years, and very favorable comment was made by Mr. Frache, of Frache Bros., Florists of Lethbridge, who with Mrs. Frache was a visitor.

Glady Moores was given a surprise party at her home on Friday evening, prior to leaving for Calgary to attend Normal School. Other Coleman students who have commenced Normal training are Lena Odrey, Mildred Higginbotham and Steve Ondrus.

A party from Coleman spent the week-end at Waterton Lakes, including Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. L. Linde, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Devine, Mr. and Mrs. Rhynas of Blairmore, Dr. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rippon.

A big dog, which frequented the post office corner and the adjacent butcher shops, belonging to a man named Andreschuk, will no longer be seen. He died beside a telephone pole on the corner on Monday morning at 7.45. A dog belonging to Dan Griffiths was a victim recently of what was alleged to be poison.

Archie Beveridge has improved his front garden by extending the fence several feet. A number of very fine gardens were noticed in a recent survey, among them being Frank Graham's, H. V. Hammel's, Mayor Pattinson's, Mr. Clarke's of Sixth St.; W. Heibeln's excellent vegetable garden, also the Fauville's and many others.

John Troitz and Di Gould appeared before Magistrate Gresham for allowing horses to run at large in the townsite, causing damage to gardens and hedges. This nuisance from cows and horses has been all too common, and the magistrate warned the parties, and others who may be charged with similar offences, that more severe fines will be imposed. In this case they were given nominal fines and the costs of the court. Barking dogs, cows and horses have caused considerable annoyance, causing language to flow that would consume the owners in its wrath were it possible.
